The easiest way to report a missing person and their location to ICMP is by using ICMP’s OIC Mobile application. Simply use your favorite QR code scanner to open and install the ICMP OIC application.

QR codes for direct installation of ICMP OIC Mobile app

For Apple devices and smartphones.

For Android devices and smartphones.

Disclaimers:
- Your personal data is treated as confidential and used only for purposes that you have approved.
- ICMP will not make your personal data available to third parties without your consent.
- Any electronic transfer of personal data is protected using strong encryption standards.
- Your personal data is stored on secure servers on protected ICMP premises.
- Your data is legally protected by international law against all searches and seizures.

Disclaimer:
ICMP’s mandate is to ensure the cooperation of governments and others in locating and identifying missing persons. In this regard, information provided to this application may be shared with investigative agencies, both national and international. ICMP reserves the right not to disclose information provided to this application if in ICMP’s judgement doing so would threaten the integrity of evidence or crime sites, or until such threats no longer exist.

ICMP protects your data!
What is ICMP’s Online Inquiry Center or OIC?

ICMP’s Online Inquiry Center (OIC) is an online tool that can be accessed by families of the missing and others to provide or obtain information about a missing person. The OIC is part of ICMP’s advanced software solution used in large-scale missing persons programs throughout the world.

The OIC user can provide a variety of data about a missing person, including physical descriptions, data about closest living relative(s) and details about the circumstances and location of their disappearance.

The Online Inquiry Center also enables authorized users to access and update information about missing persons.

How to report a missing person?

1) Have your personal information ready including your address and telephone number. Have a pen and paper ready to note your verification code. Have any information ready that you wish to report about the missing person, for example a picture in electronic format, or information about physical characteristics.

2) Open the website oic.icmp.int or use your smartphone to install ICMP OIC Mobile application from Google Play or App Store. Then click "Report a Missing Person" and fill out the online form with details about the missing person and yourself. Should you require any assistance there will be online support available throughout the process.

3) Click the "Send Missing Person Data Form" button when you are ready to submit the information.

4) Upon data submission, you will be provided with a personal verification code to follow the status of your report at any time. Keep your personal verification code in a safe place. Should you lose the code, please contact ICMP at oic.support@icmp.int.

How to report a missing person’s location?

ICMP’s Site Locator online application allows for the reporting of mass graves and other sites where the mortal remains of missing persons and disappeared may be located. Information can be provided anonymously, or may include contact details.

1) Open the website oic.icmp.int or use your smartphone to install ICMP OIC Mobile application from Google Play or App Store. Select the "Site Location" from the drop-down menu:

2) Click on the map to indicate the location, and zoom in to pinpoint the location as precisely as possible.

3) Complete the information fields.

4) Click the "Send Site Location Form" button when you are ready to submit the information.